

NEWS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

mLINQS AND REMAX PARTNER FOR END-TO-END GOVERNMENT RELOCATION SERVICES

FAIRFAX, VA – (February 2, 2005) – mLINQS™, LLC and REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services today announced the two companies have entered into a partnership in which mLINQS is the exclusive provider of a relocation expense management system REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services will implement to provide enhanced services for its government customers.

“This partnership underscores the true value our relocation management system brings to federal agencies,” said mLINQS President Greg McIntyre. “There are few companies in the industry whose reputation and recognition can compare to REMAX. Their growing presence in the government arena attests to the quality of their existing services, and by incorporating our system into the mix, REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services can offer a fully automated, end-to-end package of relocation services. This is the sole vendor approach government agencies have sought as they work to streamline their relocation processes.”

The General Services Administration (GSA) has directed civilian agencies to implement relocation management reporting systems by September 30, 2005. mLINQS has developed the first web-based system to manage the entire government relocation expense process, including complex international moves. The software automatically ensures accuracy of its Per Diem rates, standard mileage rate, and federal and state tax rates. The system performs all Permanent Change of Station (PCS) entitlement and tax calculations, which greatly improves productivity while significantly reducing errors. It is fully compliant with all federal regulations, as well as with Federal Enterprise Architecture (FEA) standards, Section 508 of the American Disabilities Act, and the eTravel Service (eTS) initiative standards.

“We view mLINQS as an important value added service REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services can provide transparently to our government customers,” said John Ryan, Vice President, Marketing, REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services. “Our end-to-end relocation services enable us to become involved in the process even before funds are obligated to ensure customer satisfaction. We then provide automated quality control and vendor management throughout every relocation. mLINQS validates the expenses and makes the necessary calculations before they are interfaced to the agency’s financial system. It’s a completely seamless process.”

REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services hosts the system in a fully redundant environment that meets or exceeds all government security standards. It is available 24X7 in real time. There are three sub-sections or arms of the system. Agencies can view any or all relocation activity to track the process. Each vendor has access to the data affecting its participation, and individual users can access and enter their unique information from screens that duplicate those of their respective agencies, thereby simplifying the process.

Headquartered in Woodbridge, Virginia, REMAX Allegiance-Relocation Services is available on GSA Schedule.