mLINQS And Relocation Management Worldwide Team To Provide A Total Federal Relocation Management Solution

FAIRFAX, VA – (September 7, 2010) – mLINQS, LLC today announced that it has entered into a partnership agreement with Relocation Management Worldwide (RMW). Under terms of the agreement, RMW will provide moveLINQ, the award winning relocation expense management system developed by mLINQS, to RMW's federal customers.

Headquartered in Memphis, Tennessee, RMW will offer moveLINQ in conjunction with its Virtual Employee Relocation Network (VERN). VERN is a unique, Web-based vendor management system that captures all employee relocation activities from all participating vendors on a single comprehensive platform.

“This partnership significantly raises the bar for best of breed government relocation services,” said Greg McIntyre, President, mLINQS. “moveLINQ and VERN integrate seamlessly. The result is a total suite of relocation services for federal agencies to manage every action needed to successfully relocate employees, control costs, and minimize the stress associated with a move. I'm convinced our partnership with RMW is a win-win for our team, federal agencies, and taxpayers as well.”

moveLINQ is designed to manage all of the expenses associated with government employee relocation. mLINQS is the only company to successfully develop a fully functional, Web-based government relocation expense management system. The system is currently used to support relocation for employees of more than 30 federal agencies.

According to John Ryan, Executive Vice President, Relocation Management Worldwide, “Our strategic partnership is a natural fit, because mLINQS is the leader in federal government relocation expense management and VERN is already recognized as the leading vendor management system. It gives federal agencies access to the services from over 30 CHAMP carriers, four home sale companies, and other related vendors through a single operational management system. Adding moveLINQ to manage expenses enables us to close the loop on a best of breed total solution. We're ready to provide all RMW government customers with the first system to fully automate Chapter 302 of the Federal Travel Regulations.”

Using VERN, RMW oversees the compliance of all participating vendors to agencies' statements of work. Federal agencies benefit from having real time data collection, quality control, and access to key metrics including vendor satisfaction surveys and evaluations in a single application. RMW also brings a significant level of financial strength, security and socio-economic diversity to the relocation process by combining the resources of multiple GSA Schedule 48 home sale providers in one scalable system.
